

To whom it may Concern:

I have had the pleasure of working with, but more importantly listening to John LaVine (Wolf) for the past several years. John's commitment to excellence is an all time thing, not just when the mood hits him. Whether he is delivering much needed information to stranded drivers or giving a light hearted take to a traffic mishap, John delivers with the appropriate tone and manner. Simply put, John is a true professional.

Having worked with hundreds of traffic and news personalities in my over 25 years of experience in the business, John is at or near the top of people who consistently deliver an outstanding product. He has won several in-house air check awards as well as being selected by many of our clients for his excellent on-air work.

When the microphone turns on, John lights up the air waves with credibility and accuracy. John would be a good front man for any organization; he brings and enthusiasm that is hard to match.

In short, John would be an asset to any organization and I would recommend him for whatever job he is seeking. If I can answer any other questions, please feel free to call me at 214-596-2310.
